Worker's Compensation: We may disclose medical information about you for programs that provide benefits for work-related injuries or illnesses.

Military Activities, National Security and Intelligence Activities: If you are a member of the Armed Forces, or part of the national security or intelligence communities, we may be required by military command or other government authorities to disclose protected health information about you. We may also disclose information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.

Organ and Tissue Donation: If you are an organ or tissue donor, we may disclose protected health information to organizations that handle organ or tissue procurement when necessary to facilitate organ or tissue donation or transplantation.

Inmates: If you are an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, we may release medical information about you to the correctional institution or law enforcement official. The release would be necessary 1) for the institution to provide you with health care; 2) to protect your health and safety or the health and safety of others; or 3) for the safety and security of the correctional institution.

Serious Threats: As permitted by applicable law and standards of ethical conduct, we may use or disclose protected health information if we, in good faith, believe that the use of disclosure is necessary to prevent or lessen a serious and imminent threat to the health or safety of a person or the public.

Information That is Not Personally Identifiable: We may use or disclose information about you in a way that does not personally identify you.

Section 2:

Protected Health Information Use and Disclosure That Requires an Opportunity for You to Agree or Object

Family and friends: We may disclose your protected health information to your family or friends or any other individual identified by you when they are involved in your care or the payment of your care. We will only disclose the protected health information directly relevant to their involvement in your care or payment. If you are available, we will give you an opportunity to object to these disclosures, and we will not make these disclosures if you object.

If you are not available, we will determine whether a disclosure to your family or friends is in your best interest, and we will disclose only the protected health information that is directly relevant to their involvement in your care.

Section 3:

Protected Health Information that Cannot be Disclosed Without Your Specific Authorization:

Other uses and disclosures of your protected health information will be made only with your written authorization, unless otherwise permitted or required by law as described below.

You may revoke this authorization by notifying us in writing at any time.

Your rights as a Patient:

- You have the right to inspect and copy your protected health information.
You may inspect and obtain a copy of your protected health information maintained in our office. We may charge you for the cost of copying, mailing or associated supplies.

Under federal law, however, you may not inspect or copy psychotherapy notes or information compiled in reasonable anticipation of a civil, criminal or administrative action or proceeding. Certain documents pertaining to laboratory services are also exempt under federal law.

Under certain circumstances, we may not grant your request. If we deny your request, then you may appeal our decision.

We require that requests to access your protected health information be made in writing. You can arrange to do this through our Privacy Officer.

- You have the right to request a restriction of your protected health information.
You may ask us not to disclose your protected health information for treatment, payment or health care operations. You may also request that any part of your protected health information not to be disclosed to friends and/or family members involved in your care.

We are not required to agree to your request. If we do agree, we will comply with your request unless the information is needed to provide you with emergency care.

In order to request a restriction, you must do so in writing. The request must specifically state what information is restricted and to whom the restriction applies.

You may request a restriction form from our Privacy Officer.
